Purpose

The National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors, Wyoming Department of Health, Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services Division, and Rural and Frontier Health Division, Office of Multicultural Health are proud to present the Creating Respectful and Trauma Informed System of Care for Human Service Settings Conference. The goal of this conference is to promote a dynamic learning exchange arising from the growing recognition of psychological trauma as a pivotal force that shapes the mental, emotional, and physical wellbeing of those seeking healing and recovery with the support of mental health and human services. We encourage all professionals working with mental health, substance abuse, or legal or educational systems to attend.

Please fax your registration material to 307-777-8600 or call Betty Sones at 307-777-5601, betty.sones@health.wyo.gov, for any question regarding this conference.

Speakers:

Rodger McDaniel, JD is the Deputy Director, Wyoming Department of Health (WDH) Director, WDH, Mental and Substance Abuse Division

Joel Slack is the Executive Director of and responsible for the management and operations of Respect International, an advocacy, humanitarian, and educational non-profit organization that promotes respect, resilience, and recovery for persons with mental illness worldwide through training and consultation services.

Pat Shea, MA, MSW is the Deputy Director of the NASMHPD Office of Technical Assistance, and responsible for overseeing the planning, implementation, and evaluation of events provided to public MH and related systems. Previously she worked for 8 years as a Public Health Advisor with the Federal CMHS where she contributed on topics including: MH promotion; resilience; youth violence prevention; suicide prevention; MH treatment and support for persons living with HIV/AIDS; MH transformation; and the MH needs of persons involved in the justice system .

Tim Tunner, PhD is the Coordinator for the Non-Transformation State Incentive Grant (T-SIG) States Project, and a Consultant/Trainer for the Office of Technical Assistance for State Mental Health Planning. Prior to this work he was the Director of a supportive housing program in Pennsylvania for individuals dually diagnosed with mental health and substance use disorders.

Gayle Bluebird, RN has been active in the consumer/survivor movement since the early 70s, and is now peer coordinator for the NASMHPD Office of Technical Assistance. She has written and edited two manuals Participatory Dialogues and Reaching Across With the Arts, with funds from the SAMHSA. In 2006 she produced and edited a film/video titled, Leaving the Door Open: Alternatives to Seclusion and Restraint also for SAMHSA. Most recently she completed a guidebook on developing peer roles: "Paving New Ground: Peer Roles in Inpatient Settings" now available through OTA.
